How to Graduate in the School of Holiness

By Sergio Scataglini

Rev. Sergio Scataglini

Our goal in any school we attend is to graduate. Yet some people think we never graduate in the School of Holiness. I disagree.

There is yet a rest for the people of God. There is a promise on this earth. Yes, we are waiting for heaven. But there is also the promise of purification on this earth and I pray that all of us would graduate in the School of Holiness.

The School of Holiness works like this: First you graduate, then you live the rest of your life practicing the Holiness of God. If you have not yet graduated, this may this be your day.

“I’m tired of repenting. I want holiness.”

We were in Buenos Aires, Argentina, in a Pastor’s Conference. As one of the pastors came forward, I could see the signs of grieving on his face. We were praying for many pastors, but when I tried to pray for him, he did not want to pray right away. He wanted to talk to me. He said, with anguish, “Brother Sergio, I’m tired of repenting. I want holiness.”

Friends, those words still echo in my heart today. To me, that is the cry of a generation of ministers and servants of God. We are all saying we are tired of repenting all the time and sinning all the time. We want holiness.

Thank God for the possibility of repenting! But we would rather rejoice than repent. We want to be able to say, “Thank you, Lord, for keeping and guarding me.”

The church must fight a new battle. Up to this point, it seems like a great

C-Net News

Imagine a seed being planted in the hearts of men and women all across the globe. Imagine that seed growing, and spreading, and affecting others in their community.

That is what we are seeing happen in the cells of ComunioNet taking place in Peru, France, Argentina, Spain and Italy.

In December, CNet members in Chiclayo, Peru, hosted a program for needy children. They fed them and gave them gifts along with the Christmas message. More than 100 children were blessed.

December also was a month of outreach to children in La Plata, Argentina.

February will be a month of Evangelistic Outreach to the Youth in La Plata. ♥

A Fresh Look at an Old Ark

By Margie Martin

A few short months ago, I found myself in one of those situations where I was diligently seeking God's Word for direction and clarity. Have you ever been where you believe you know what God's will is for you, yet you cannot seem to grasp His timing?

I was led to the story of Noah's Ark. I have to confess, I thought "Oh no! I've read that story a thousand times! I know it forwards and backwards." Yet, in obedience, I studied it once again.

Then it began to unfold. Follow the story with me. We all know that the flood lasted 40 days and 40 nights. We all know that Noah had every kind of animal on that ark. Even termites. (Now that is faith!)

After that, Genesis 7:24 tells us that "The waters flooded the earth for 150 days." At the end of the 150 days, the Ark came to rest on the mountains of Ararat. After another 40 days, Noah opened the window and sent out a raven. Then he sent out a dove to see if the waters had receded from the surface of the earth. The dove returned and Noah waited another 7 days and he sent it out again. This time it returned with an olive leaf and Noah knew that the water had receded. Yet he waited another 7 days, and sent it out again. It did not return. (Gen 8:4-12)

Now, I don't know about you, but by this time, I would be ready to jump ship. It had to be stinky, loud and getting rather cramped in that Ark. Yet only at this time, "Noah removed the covering from the Ark and saw that the surface of the ground was dry." (Gen 8:13) Halleluiah! I would have been outta there!

But not Noah! No, he waited some more. He waited one month and twenty seven days to be exact (Gen 8:13-14).

Then God said to Noah, "Come out of the Ark, you and your wife and your sons and their wives." (Gen 8:15-16)

I couldn't help but inquire of the Lord, WHY didn't Noah jump ship when he saw the ground was dry? I was inspired by Noah's strength to wait upon the Lord, to stay, finish his daily chores and maintain the Ark, even though the grass was getting greener all the time on the other side.

Then He showed me. So often I am tempted to jump in verse 13, where it said "The surface of the ground was dry." Yet, if I would only wait on the direction of the Lord where it says, "The earth was completely dry," and, "Come out of the Ark," (v.14, 15) perhaps I wouldn't keep getting stuck in the mud so often! After all, God sees the WHOLE picture, when I can only see the surface.

Friends, I pray that we would each have the perseverance and fortitude to stay on the Ark, to wait upon the Lord and to follow His direction and timing in ALL that we do! ♥

Praying the Right Way

by Dr. Steve Swihart

"Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might"
(Ecclesiastes 9:10a).

As a rule, the most influential and the most successful people in the church, in the classroom and in every sector of society are those individuals who pursue life with all of their might.

They pursue their priorities with all of their might. They pursue their vocation with all of their might. They pursue their relationships with all of their might. And they pursue their God with all of their might.

When it comes to praying, the person who prays best (and not necessarily longest) is the one who seeks to know and follow God's heart with all of his or her might.

Decide today that you will be that kind of person! When you do, success will follow you wherever you go! ♥ deal of the Body of Christ has been fighting the wrong battle. Always fighting the battle against sin. It is not the best way to live the Christian life, but it is very common.

It goes like this: Face temptation, struggle against sin, fall into sin, repent, and be forgiven. Then back to struggle against sin, falling into sin, more repentance, and more forgiveness. This cycle wears you out!

We want to rejoice rather than repent

There is a better way to live the Christian life. Face temptation, victory. Temptation, victory. Temptation, victory!

Yes, as long as we are on this side of heaven, we will be tempted. Our flesh is carnal; it is corrupted. But the fact that we are tempted does not mean we have to say yes to sin all the time.

The power of God can embrace you and take away all the bondage and sin from your life. Friend, I would give my life for this message. We are called to preach Christ and Him crucified and the power of His resurrection. Once we preach the power of God, we will see the power of God.

Over the next few months, I will be sharing ten practical and Biblical principles to help you graduate from the School of Holiness. †

Testimonies (from our web site)

I had the opportunity to have in my hands for six short hours your book, "The Fire of His Holiness". I confess to you that I practically sucked it up as through a straw! First of all, because it was not my book, but also because it ministered to my life in a very special way. It arrived at the exact moment that God is calling me to new things and opening my eyes to another dimension of His walk with me. I thank God for your life, ministry and family.

Guillermo, Cuba

I am from Puerto Rico. I have read your book about holiness and am now reading The Twelve Transgressions. God is transforming my life! I want to tell you that God began to heal my heart with your books. He has shown me all of the desires, hidden sin and weaknesses in my heart. We are so happy for what God is doing with us!

Jose, Puerto Rico

I attended the most recent Break-through Conference. One of the declarations was about evangelizing even as we shop. My husband and I were in the local Wal-Mart store. A man walked by and said "Hello". He was dressed like he rode motorcycle and had a helmet in his cart. I commented about it being a good day for a ride. He began to tell me about his day and then about his life!

I looked him right in the eyes and asked him if he was saved. He said, "To tell you the truth, no, I am not." (Inside I could not believe I had said that!) We talked for about 45 minutes. Tears were welling up in his eyes as I told him about the love of Jesus for his life. Hallelujah! This is the life I want to live!
